

Introduction Poll

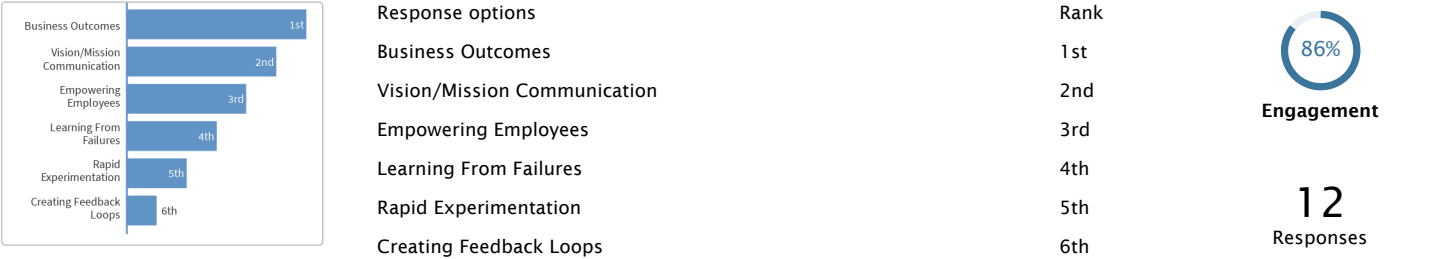

Current run (last updated Nov 28, 2018 1:44am)

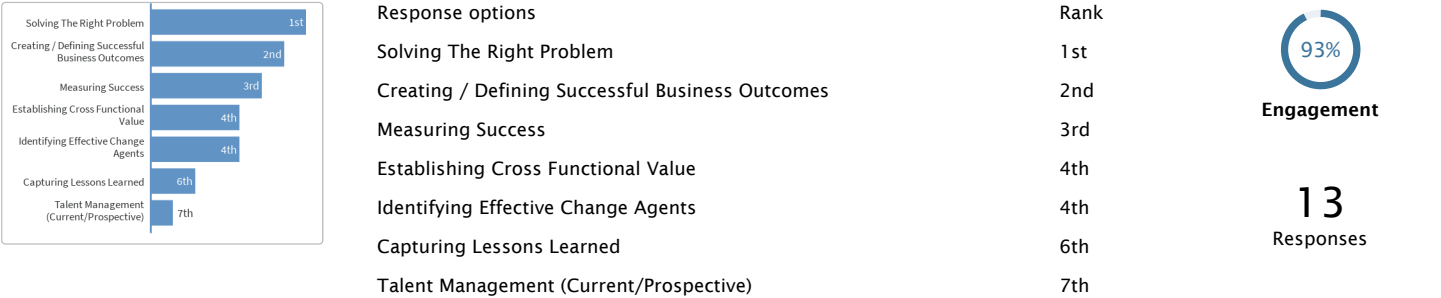

What is your current job role?

Rank from top to bottom what your organization values most when creating/executing a corporate technology initiative.

Rank from top to bottom what your organizations biggest challenges are when creating/executing a corporate technology initiative.

If you could get the answer to at least one question today what would it be?

How do you convince leadership to spend money?
about:netpage

establish cross function value*
about:netpage

How do I get buy-in and time from someone who just wants the ending without their input ... even though their input is critical. *
about:netpage

How to properly engage the business to provide testers who "will" provide feedback. *
about:netpage

How to work with administration to create a cohesive long term plan for implementing technologies to support business goals and needs. *
about:netpage

How to deal with a temperate VIP. *
about:netpage

- Responses
- How do you convince leadership to spend money?establish cross function value
- How do I get buy-in and time from someone who just wants the ending without their input ... even though their input is critical.
- How to properly engage the business to provide testers who will provide feedback.
- How to work with administration to create a cohesive long term plan for implementing technologies to support business goals and needs.
- How to deal with a temperate VIP.
- How to get the organization to embrace change and become willing to try new products and initiatives.
- How to define a strategy for measuring success
- Best techniques and practices for implementing a tailored strategy
- How to convince people Cloud is safe?

